

This transcript was exported on Apr 25, 2024 - view latest version here.

Sarah Splaine:

I work in a high-stress environment that feels... Oh, no, shouldn't say life or death. We're talking about healthcare. Everything has to happen when it's supposed to happen. I don't have a lot of extra time to go to the doctor to check on results.

kp.org allows me to create doctor's appointments, regular checkups to emergency visits, all online because I can check test results without having to go in and see the doctor. It's something I can pull up right on my phone which, for me, as somebody who doesn't have a computer all day... probably my favorite aspect. Having the convenience of Kaiser is a lifesaver.

Speaker 2:

[inaudible 00:00:45]